

Intro:

explain a little bit of history, what the education is and how it doesn't fit everyone

- Mamlachti- secular, offering general studies but very little religious studies... religious tend to be as an extracurricular or elective only
- mamlachti-dati-- Religious Zionist/ public religious, secular studies with some Torah, religious lifestyle, not coeducational
- Chardal- Charedi state, Torah oriented with very little general education,
- Hinuch Atzmai- charedi private, all Torah, all the time
- Arab schools- separate with lower quality, no Jewish studies, Arabic as primary, Hebrew as secondary

YOU, yes you, are a municipal school board and you have some important decisions. What are you going to name your school? What is the goal of your school? Which values will you bid for?

Educational values

Pluralistic Judaism

Religious tolerance

Coexistence

Modernity

Torah

Zionism

Tikkun Olam/tzedakah

Egalitarianism

Tefillah (prayer)

democracy

Religious nationalism (Jewishness of the State)

Religious tradition

Israeli tradition/culture

Israeli history

army preparation national service preparation

world history

Jewish history/world Jewry

STEM subjects (Science Technology Engineering & Math)

Hebrew

World languages

Literature

philosophy

computer science

the environment

medical studies (biology)

classical art

Music

athletics

digital art writing community

Timing:

5min opening

20min consultation/planning- with name of school and edu goals

15-20min bidding on values

10 min why they chose one certain value/name of school/educational goals

5-10 min wrap up

wrap up. As we've seen, many different values can make up a community... bla bla bla... some questions to think about...How do these values develop society? How can we adjust our values to change the future?